TRAINING COURSE

Inclusion in youth work

Fichtenhof Rickling

Germany

Nov 8th - 13th 2026

International youth workers training course

Topic

Inclusion, with a focus on people with disabilities, is a key priority in youth work.

However, creating truly inclusive events and activities often face practical and structural barriers.

This training course addresses the critical need for disability-inclusive youth work. Across Europe, young people with disabilities continue to experience exclusion from social, educational, and recreational opportunities.

Many youth organizations still lack the knowledge, skills, and resources to ensure full accessibility and meaningful participation for all.

Youth workers, both voluntary and professional, play a vital role in advancing inclusion. By adopting inclusive practices, barriers can be removed and environments can be transformed to ensure that young people with disabilities are not only included but also empowered to participate fully.

What it's about

- International youth workers training course with around 25 people from Denmark, Finland, Estonia and Germany
- Opportunity to discuss the inclusion and participation of children and young people with disabilities in youth work
- Learn more about methods, tools, and opportunities for inclusion in youth work
- Workshops
- Excursions to Hamburg and Schleswig-Holstein
- The opportunity to meet multipliers from the Baltic Sea region

Participants

People with disabilities are very welcome, as their perspective is particularly important for this event!

- around 20 - 25 youth workers, multipliers and engaged volunteers
- There is no age limit for this project
- Participants can be professional youth workers or multipliers/ youth leaders from youth organizations with an interest in the topics
